11.

W: Hello. How can I help you?

M: Hi. I need a ticket to Taipei tomorrow. When is the first train?

W: The earliest train is at 6:45 a.m. and it will arrive in Taipei at 8:00 a.m.

M: 6:45 a.m. is a little too early. What about the next train?

W: Hmm ... the next train to Taipei is at 7:15 a.m. That's thirty minutes later than the first one.

M: That's good. I'll get the ticket for that train.

Q: What time is the man's train to Taipei?

12.

W: Oh, wait! I left my shopping bag on the sofa.

M: That's OK. We can get another one from other shops.

W: No. Shops don't give plastic bags any longer. We need to bring our own bags.

M: Why?

W: Because it's good for the Earth.

M: I see. Then let's go back to get your shopping bag.

Q: What can we learn from the dialogue?

13.

B: What's in the basket, Jane?

G: There are some papayas. My mom asked me to send them to a neighbor of ours.

B: Let me help you carry it.

G: You're so kind. It's really heavy.

Q: What did the boy do?

14.

M: Nina, I am going to the supermarket. Would you like to come with me?

W: No, I am busy right now. Could you help me buy some fruit?

M: Sure! What do you need?

W: I want some grapes, papayas, guavas, and strawberries.

M: Why do you need so many kinds of fruits?

W: I'm going to make some juice and cakes for tomorrow's party.

Q: What can we learn from the dialogue?

15.

G: Benny. We still need one player to join our team, but the card game is just around the corner. What can we do?

B: Don't worry. I have a good idea.

G: What is the idea?

B: Because it's important for us to find some people with experience, we can make a small card game test and have all our classmates do it.

G: I see. Then we can invite the best player to join us.

B: That's right.

Q: What is the boy's idea?
